As to the Order in Which Their Unions Should Proceed in Funeral Procession Results in No Carriages Going to the City of the Dead.

San Francisco, Sept. 10.—A left swing that Joe Gans blocked in a clever manner caused Jimmy Britt to lose the lightweight championship of the world and brought to a close, five rounds of fast fighting, witnessed by a crowd of about 14,000 people at Recreation park. The blow, which was caught by Gans on his elbow, was struck in the middle of the fourth round. It broke Britt's wrist, and though he fought another round he had to abandon his efforts at the end of the fifth.

"What's the use of my going on; I can't fight, I am helpless," he said to his second. Captain of Police Gleason was notified at the ringside and stopped the fight.

Referee Welch gave the decision to Gans.

Three doctors after an examination stated that the injury was a fracture and dislocation of the lower end of the ulna, the innermost bone of the wrist. Whether it is a genuine fracture or

New York, Sept. 10.—Solemn requiem mass was said over the body of the late Michael Feely at St. Vincent de Paul's Roman Catholic church and over 2,000 relatives and friends left the edifice in order to follow the remains to their last resting place in Calvary cemetery. As they reached the sidewalk the hearse driver and carriage drivers began a quarrel over union differences, and while the coffin was being placed in the hearse the men deserted the carriages.

The undertaker besought the drivers to resume their seats, but they were obstinate. Their spokesman explained that three separate antagonistic drivers' unions—the United Teamsters' Association of America, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and the Liberty Dawn association—were represented, and that, as the organizations were not friendly to each other, none of the drivers should work.

As the minutes passed on and no relief came, the streets grew more and more congested. Undertaker Hamilton sent a hurry call to the Bedford avenue police station for aid. In double quick time Captain Francis Creamer, with ten men, came on the scene. This placed matters in a new light, but the drivers were still obstinate.

It is against the principles of the Liberty Dawn men to drive behind the United Teamsters, and the United Teamsters were equally unwilling to cooperate with either of the other associations. After much argument and more delay, it was finally suggested that each batch of carriages go separate ways, with the cemetery as their objective point. This strange compact was finally agreed on and the 126 mourners' carriages wheeled and separated.

The hearse went its way alone and unaccompanied, and the body reached the cemetery after a delay of nearly an hour.

AILMENT IS AGNAPHIA.

Everything Young Woman Sees Appears Reversed.

Rutland, Vt., Sept. 10.—The community has a young woman who is afflicted with a most extraordinary ailment.

In order to read a book or a letter, it is necessary for her to hold it before a mirror. And, what is even more extraordinary, when she writes her words are reversed.

In order to decipher her penmanship it is necessary to hold the manuscript before a mirror to straighten it out.

The strangest part of it all is that she does this unconsciously and her family have never been able to convince her that her habit is peculiar.

She has recently returned from a trip to Europe.

She spent the winter taking a rest cure in southern Italy, where her friends hoped that an entire change of scene and experience might, in a measure, restore her to normal condition.

During her absence she wrote regularly to her family and friends and every word in all her letters is reversed so that it can only be read by reflection

in a mirror.

The nerve specialists have pronounced her disease to be agnaphia, which arises from the reversal of the nerve centers in the brain, which control the power of expressing thought in writing and reading with understanding. The derangement in some respects is similar to aphasia, that peculiar disease which robs people of the power of speech and memory and often causes them to lose their own identity and to forget their homes and friends. In every other respect the physical and mental condition of the young lady is entirely normal. She talks in a natural tone and expresses herself accurately and freely as she always did.

In Europe she went sight seeing and enjoyed herself like any tourist of intelligence, but every object that passed before her eyes was reversed

from left to right.

name, and asked for various kinds of tery. The owner refused $1,000 for the parrot a short time ago.

BRYAN, TEXAS, SEPT 11, 1907

A burning question in Ft. Worth is, to lick or not lick the youngsters in the schools.

There is a building on the corner of the grounds of the east side city school that would be a convenient place for a class in manual training.

Vice-President Fairbanks has promised to speak on Confederate day at the Dallas Fair. He will no doubt be greeted with the old rebel yell.

Every farmer should use his best efforts and all his influence in favor of the strict enforcement of the game law. He has no better friends than the little birds.

A professor of the University of California has figured it out that thirteen ounces of peanuts are equal in nutritive qualities to one and a half pounds of the best porterhouse steak.

A lady from a distant part of the state, who had spent part of the summer at a popular health resort, in conversation with a few friends said: "It is the churches and schools that have made Bryan famous. Wherever I go, when Bryan is mentioned somebody always has something good to say about the churches and schools."

"Cleanliness is next to godliness," is not scripture; it was John Wesley who first put it into epigrammatic form: Bryan is a beautiful town, but, as there are pretty girls who are untidy in their habits, so are their towns that can easily be made more attractive. In this subject at least a revival of primitive Methodism is devotedly to be wished.

The so-called "stingless bee" which is among the latest novelties introduced by the national department of agriculture is not destitute of the weapon possessed by other bees, but it has such a mild and peaceful disposition that it will fight only upon extreme provocation. Its proper name is the Caucasian bee, derived from the country of its origin.

The summer caloric at last is historic; the dust, late aggressive, in no more oppressive; the long drought is broken, and by the same token, a truce to complaining, for again it is raining. The dun clouds are lowering and curdling and showering; the streamlets are flowing; soft breezes are blowing; the green grass is growing; fat cattle are lowing; the flowers are blooming;

SECOND LOCK AND DAM ON BRAZOS

Will Be in the Munson's Shoals Vicinity—Mayor Baker Visits Bryan for Conference With Citizens.

Mayor Jas. B. Baker of Waco, the Brazos navigation heavyweight, was here yesterday afternoon for a conference with the citizens of Bryan regarding the site for the second lock and dam on the Brazos river, which has been located by the government engineers in the Munson's Shoals vicinity, about eight or nine miles from Bryan. Mayor Baker met with the officers of the business league and a number of citizens at the Carnegie hall and carefully went over the matter, showing the location with a blue print and field notes furnished him by the government engineers after a survey made by them last spring. Three tracts of land are involved on the Burleson county side and two on the Brazos county side, the total acreage required by the government for right-of-way being 29.13 acres. This it is desired to have the people of Bryan secure, nothing further being asked of the people of the town and county.

Mayor Baker says the government will spend $300,000.00 in the construction of this dam, and a considerable amount annually in maintaining it, and that it will be of great benefit to this city and county. He says that Waco is spending forty thousand dollars on the enterprise and that it will be worth more to that city than ten railroads. There are eight locks and dams to be constructed between Navasota and Waco, and the government estimate of the expenditure for all of them is two million, four hundred thousand dollars. The work has progressed rapidly on the first lock and dam at Navasota and the government is fully committed to the enterprise and certain to carry it out, according to official information in the possession of Mayor Baker. He urged the importance of securing the right-of-way before congress meets, leaving nothing in the way of the government proceeding with the work. He is thoroughly posted and enthusiastic about the matter, and has no doubt that Brazos navigation will be realized within a reasonable time.

The blue print and other data were turned over to President Saunders of the business league, who will take steps to secure the right-of-way.

Regardless of whether deep water in the Brazos will be of advantage to Bryan, as far away from us as the river is, it will indirectly benefit this entire section, and will bring an immense amount of trade here if Bryan makes the proper effort in the matter. The Eagle is glad to see considerable local interest manifested in the undertaking.

The main line was blocked four or five hours, causing delay to passenger trains.

Heart Strength

Heart strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased; the cause is that it is hidden tiny little nerves that really is all at fault. This occurs in the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—tiny needs and must have more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, throbbing heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and failing nerve centers. It builds up strength; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet there are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first caused Dr. Shoop to create his very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the actual nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative, so that original and highly valuable principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach, heart, bloating, biliousness, bad breath, yellow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

GIRLS DO TALKING.

Bedroom Intruder Only Intent on Making Exit.

Hattiesburg, Miss., Sept. 10.—Three Hattiesburg young ladies, sisters—Misses Genie, Dora and Ruby Gray—have had the unusual experience of entertaining for two hours a housebreaker who had broken into their bedroom. The ladies were awakened by the sound of some one moving about in the room about 2:30 o'clock in the morning. At first each thought it was one of the other girls trying to turn on the electric light. They spoke to each other and satisfied themselves it was a stranger. They could hear the intruder stealthily moving toward a window. The girls spoke to him, but he would not answer. They were afraid to cry out for help, were afraid to leave the room, and were afraid to turn on the light. They lay in bed till daylight approached, talking to each other and trying to get the intruder to speak. He kept silent, though the girls could see his shadow over against the wall. He was evidently afraid to make a break for the door. It is supposed that the girls were partially under the influence of chloroform, for finally they dozed off, and were next awakened when they heard the man leaping through a back window, he having escaped from the bedroom. He took nothing away with him, though the girls' purses, well filled with money, lay on a table in the middle of the room.

LOOKS LIKE ANOTHER.

Henry Rikel's Double Does Not Bear a Good Reputation.

Middletown, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Henry Rikel of Middletown is unfortunate in that he looks like another man. The other man does not bear a very good reputation and owes money. Consequently Rikel is often dunne and abused. Saturday night while walking along the street Rikel was accosted by Alvah Ogden by mistake for the other man.

"You're the man that owes me money," said Ogden.

Rikel denied the allegation, but before he could explain that it was a case of mistaken identity, Ogden knocked him down and otherwise ill-treated him. Rikel had Ogden arrested for assault. In police court, Ogden saw his mistake and apologized, but Rikel was obdurate and Ogden will have to stand trial. Rikel figures out that he will have to leave town or wear a disguise unless his double mends his ways.

NOW KNOWS HIMSELF.

Charles H. Bennett Has Just Ascertained Who He Is.

Omaha, Sept. 10.—Stranger than romance is the life story of Charles H. Bennett of Melbourne, Ia., who eighteen years ago, when a child of six, was picked up by a cyclone at his father's home in Iowa and carried down into Harrison county, Missouri, a distance of twelve miles, where he was found by a farmer and his wife, who adopted him.

He believed that he was their son until a few weeks ago, when they revealed to him their secret, whereupon he returned to Iowa to institute a search for his parents and brother and sister, whom he has located.

Recently the young man had a quarrel with Hudson, and in the heat of anger Hudson told him that his name was Bennett, and related to him the story of his life. He discovered that six years ago his father and mother had moved to California, but found other relatives.

PAYS WELL FOR SHOT.

Costs James S. Smith Considerable For Maiming Daughter's Husband.

Uniontown, Pa., Sept. 10.—For personal injuries inflicted by an irate father-in-law, following an exciting elopement, a jury awarded William S. Wirsing, the young husband, $45,000. Wirsing was shot by James R. Smith, wealthy coal owner, one bullet shattering his right arm and rendering it useless for life. The shooting took place in May, 1906, when Wirsing and his bride went to the Smith home a few days after the wedding in response to a written invitation by Smith himself.

In criminal court Smith was convicted of assault and battery with intent to murder and given five years in the penitentiary, being released on a writ of habeas corpus to attend the civil suit.

VIRGINIA LADY MURDERED

Slain With Pistol She Twice Fired at Assailant.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 10.—Mrs. Mary Rorschach, wife of Lieutenant Frank Rorschach of the United States navy, and sister of Joseph Lawless, former secretary of the commonwealth of Virginia, was murdered in her room at Portsmouth by an unknown burglar early Tuesday. She was shot through the heart with pistol taken from her hand by the burglar after she fired upon him through an open door leading into the kitchen, where she was cornered. Whether he was a negro or white man is unknown. He escaped, dropping the pistol as he fled from the house. Bloodhounds secured the scent, but lost it.

Lieutenant Rorschach is aboard the cruiser Tennessee with Admiral Evans' fleet, now off Provincetown, Mass., on target practice. Mrs. Rorschach evidently heard the burglar and fired two shots in his direction. Both bullets fired by the woman were found in the wall of the kitchen. Her body, with money tied in a roll and hanging around her neck, was found lying on the back steps, with her head on the second step. The pistol had been placed close to her left breast over the night dress and discharged.

Mrs. Rorschach is a handsome woman, thirty-six years of age, and one of the most accomplished musicians in Virginia.

THREW SHOES AT WIFE.

Under Impression This Gave Him an Absolute Divorce.

New York, Sept. 10.—The method employed by Achmar Silver in getting rid of his wife reads like a wife-beater's dream. Achmar has no aesthetic notions of affinity. In fact, he could not tell an affinity from a side of beef.

Achmar, who is a Turk and ex-chieftain of the Kabyle tribe in Morocco, threw his shoes at his wife. It was his gentle way of informing her that he had divorced her and that it was time for her to get out.

Achmar acted after the custom of his race. If he had hurled one shoe it would have meant that Mrs. Silver could come in for alimony, but when he sent the pair straight at her head he intimated that it was an absolute divorce and nothing coming from his pay envelope Saturday nights.

Achmar was so expert in the shoe-throwing line that he counted his ex-wives on the fingers of both hands.

Now, while Mrs. Achmar is not American-born, she has imbibed enough for the spirit of liberty to know that the shoe-throwing act has no standing in the courts. So she dodged the boughs and hurried to court and had her husband arrested. In court Silver told the magistrate that he threw his shoes at her.

"That means divorce among my tribe," he said.

"Well, it's different here," replied the magistrate. "If it were not the shoe factories would not be able to keep up with the demand."

Achmar promised he would take his wife back and give her money so she would not have to work.

CAREFULLY PLANNED.

What Oregonian Publishes Relative to Recent Demonstration.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 10.—The Oregonian prints the following special from Seattle:

"Everything indicates that the Vancouver, B. C., riots were carefully planned. Empress Ishik, to impress the chief of the bureau of foreign commerce, is significant that the leaders of a Seattle organization against the Japanese immigration in Vancouver headed the late demonstration. Frank Cotrell, president of the Washington State Federation of Labor; A. W. Fowler, secretary of the Anti-Japanese and Korean Immigration League, and George Listman, a prominent Seattle labor leader, were all present, together with a big delegation of American anti-Japanese sympathizers. There is no question as to whether Seattle, Portland and San Francisco agitators took part."

The special further says the great bulk of marchers and rioters were composed of Canadians and Japanese, and that the officials ignored the American participants in their telegram of protest to the Ottawa government.

TO ENTERTAIN TAFT.

Emperor of Germany Will Give the Secretary a Hearty Reception.

Berlin, Sept. 10.—Emperor William, it is stated, will make a special effort to give American Secretary of War Taft a hearty reception and memorable entertainment during his sojourn here two months hence. Already several officials, who have arrangements in charge, are holding conferences on the matter. The emperor will probably receive Mr. Taft at Potsdam castle. Laudatory articles regarding Secretary Taft are appearing in the newspapers.

Y., Sept. 10.—Gus Ormsby, a fisherman, while lifting his nets off Huron Point in Lake Erie, discovered the wreck of the propeller Richmonde, which was lost in a storm with all on board during a gale in November, 1903. The Richmonde had a cargo of copper ore valued at $200,000. In vain attempts have been made by underwriters and private enterprises to locate the treasure of the vessel.
